DAYTON ASSUMES CIRCUS DAY AIR AS CASE BEGINS

Shrewd Businessmen Set Up Hot Dog Stands as Bryan Delivers His Orations

MANY ISSUES IN LIMELIGHT

Judge Feels Trial is Most Important Since Trial That Started Christianity

By JOHN STUART
DAYTON, (Tenn.), July 9. Picture a holy war started on circus day. That's Dayton tonight. It's the eve of the Scopes trial. Mr. Bryan, a neighboring mountain top, preaches his faith. In the valley the shrewd burghers set up their hot-dog stands.

And in between men saunter in the broiling sun thinking of every great issue that men can think of. These issues range from the price of lots in Dayton to the inclusion of the Bible in the constitution of the United States. They range from the filial piety which makes these mountaineers resent the suggestion that men are descended from monkeys to abstruse reasonings on geological chronology and the presence of infusoria in colloids.

MANY ISSUES AT STAKE.

It became practically certain today that all of these issues will come before Judge Raulston and a jury of Rhea county citizens in the days that begin tomorrow. Judge Raulston was asked today how long he thought (Continued on Page 8)

Special Services Planned at First Christian Church

Special services will be held on Sunday at the First Christian church both in the morning and evening. Rev. Frank A. Waten, pastor, announced yesterday. Dr. W. H. Boden of Pasadena, will be the speaker at the 11 a. m. service, and Rev. Waten declares that he has a message of extreme importance to everyone.

At the evening service, which will be held at 7:45 o'clock, Rev. Waten will give a stereophonic lecture on "The Roof of the World." Dr. Boden will also give a short sermon in the evening. Mrs. Ross Calfee will render vocal selections in the morning while Mrs. Isaacson will do the same in the evening.

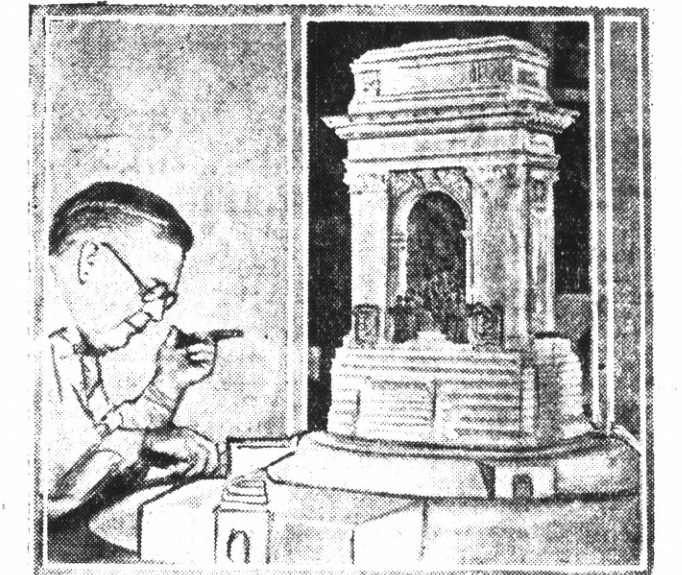

The Everyman's Bible class at the Richmond theatre at 9:45 a. m. Sunday will be addressed by Dr. Boden.

W. CLARK NOBLE, PROMINENT SCULPTOR AT WORK ON MODEL OF $12,000,000 MOTHERHOOD MEMORIAL

This unique memorial to motherhood which will be erected in Washington, D. C., will be 100 feet high and 500 feet across the base. In the base will be a room for each state and territory of the United States in addition to a large hall for the foreign nations. Mr. Noble is seen at work on the model which is nearing completion.

UNITED STATES WOULD RESTORE PEACE IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Hospital of conciliating all conflicting international views, American officials today continued their efforts to arrange conferences for composing differences in China.

France, it is confidently expected, will tomorrow complete ratifications of the Chinese agreements reached at the Washington conference. This action is expected to eliminate any obstacles in the way of calling a meeting to consider the Chinese problem.

Reports from London emphasize the unwillingness of the British government to participate in any conference on the question of extrajurisdictional rights in China at this time. The British hold to the view that order in China must be restored and anti-revolutionary agitation must cease before such a meeting.

SECRETARY OF TREASURY SAID TO HAVE QUIT

WASHINGTON, July 9.—While it has been confidentially reported for some time that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had determined to resign either this fall or next spring, when all his major tasks in the treasury will have been completed, a new report circulated in Wall street today that he already had resigned or would retire almost immediately could not be confirmed here.

Secretary Mellon himself is at his summer home on Long Island. At the treasury it was stated that nothing had been heard regarding any plan of his to leave the cabinet at this time.

It was pointed out that as chairman of the World War foreign debt commission, Mr. Mellon is in the midst of highly important negotiations with three of the larger debt powers and he would hardly resign until this work is finished.

The previous report, which is most plausible and which brought no denial when published in Universal Service dispatches on June 27 was that Secretary Mellon had indicated a desire to step down at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, but had been dissuaded by President Coolidge. Then he was said to have talked of retiring in the fall.

Salvation Army Collects $1,000 In Fund Campaign

Results of the first week of the fund drive of the Salvation Army, checked up yesterday, shows approximately $1,000, one third of Richmond's quota of $3,000, has been subscribed in pledges and cash donations. The drive will be continued throughout the county until July 28.

Reports from the county yesterday showed that the Associated Oil company at Avon is making good progress in its campaign among its employees, while two more county industries, the National Chemical company and the Antioch Lumber company joined in the drive. William B. Scheffer will take charge at the former, while H. M. Beede is chairman for the latter concern.

The county quota is $5,000, which is needed for the Salvation Army work in Contra Costa. E. J. Esola, of the West Side Improvement association, has volunteered to handle the campaign on the west side.

SUIT FOR PARK LAND

Condemnation proceedings to obtain lands for a public park in Richmond were instituted in the Superior Court Thursday by the City of Richmond against S. M. Nakazawa and C. L. Stanton. The suit was filed by City Attorney D. J. Hall.

GIRL BREAKS FOREARM

Edith May Vickers, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Vickers, of 141 Second street, broke both bones of her right forearm when she fell over a wire around a grass plot while playing Wednesday afternoon. The little girl was treated by Drs. J. B. and C. H. Spalding.

VACATION IN YOSEMITE

Mrs. Helen Kingsbury, stenographer of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, Albert Kingsbury and Miss Elaine Powell, will leave Sunday for a two weeks vacation in the Yosemite valley.

SELBY LABORER TARGET OF GUN MEN IS CLAIM

Worker Claims Unknown Man And Woman Followed Him to Crockett From San Francisco

SHERIFF'S HELP IS ASKED

Two Shots Claimed to Have Been Fired at Laborer Tuesday by Mysterious Assaultants

MARTINEZ, July 9. Tale of being followed for two days and two nights by two men and a woman, endeavoring to leave town, shot at twice from ambush and then followed to Crockett from Selby Wednesday night was related to Undersheriff W. M. Vard Thursday morning by Harry Erickson, a laborer who came to Selby to work at the smelter Monday.

Weird and fantastic as Erickson's tale appears in some particulars yet he has related the same story of three widely separate occasions and to three different officers with the result that the Sheriff's deputies are giving more careful attention to an investigation of the incident.

Erickson came to Selby from San Francisco Tuesday. While lying in bed in the company hotel at Selby Tuesday night he heard two men conversing in an adjoining room and overheard one say "This a stool pigeon." Erickson stated they were speaking of him and denied the charge. He thereupon arose from the room.

American Legion Nominates State Meet Delegates

Delegates to attend the state convention at Catalina Island during September, were nominated by the Richmond post of the American Legion at the meeting held at Memorial hall last night. They were Charles St. John, John Hansen, John Mayers, William Dobler, and J. H. Fitzpatrick.

Election of these delegates will take place at the next meeting, July 23. This meeting will also mark the close of the American Legion meetings for all of August and half of September, during which time a vacation will be had. George Tandy, commander, was the presiding officer at last night's meeting, during which $5 was voted for the Salvation Army drive going on at the present time. The board of directors of the Memorial hall have also given $10 to the drive.

Plans for a social affair in honor of the members of the building committee, which has completed its work, were further discussed at the meeting. The committee which was appointed at last meeting consists of John Hansen, W. C. Dobler, George Tandy, and Ruel Crose.

This committee will meet with committees of the United Spanish War Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the Memorial hall next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, to complete the plans for the dinner, which will be given on July 16. All members of these committee are to be in attendance.

The following are the members of the memorial building committee, who will be honored at the banquet: W. A. Vickery, chairman; A. F. Browning, Laikin Younce, J. E. Robbins, Edward Segar, Frederick Heegar, Henry Galvin, J. J. Gilmore, E. E. Crow, Ralph Woods, and George L. Herriek. The late Judge Henry McCausland was also a member.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. COOLIDGE VISIT GRAVES OF HIS GRANDPARENTS AT CEMETERY IN WATERTOWN,

The President and Mrs. Coolidge are shown above during a visit to the Arlington street cemetery in Watertown, Mass., where Mr. Coolidge's grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. John Coolidge, Sr., are buried. They died in 1891. It was soon after returning from the cemetery that the President was summoned to his father's bedside at Plymouth, Vt.

ARMY CAPTAIN DISAPPEARS IN MYSTERY CASE

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, July 9. The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Captain Robert M. Connel, United States army, deepened today when it was found that he left all his personal belongings as though he had expected to return after a brief absence. Among other things found here were a bank balance, a completely furnished apartment and a $2,000 automobile.

Military investigators are convinced that Captain Connel either met with a fatal accident in some strange way or was the victim of bandits. He has been missing since March 17.

At the time of his disappearance, Captain Connel was on duty at Lancaster, Pa., as instructor of the National Guard.

The disappearance is rendered all the more mysterious by reason of the fact that Captain Connel has no known relatives with whom the war department may communicate.

Cordelia-Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to spend $29,500 improving local substation.

Thieves Busy On Autos and Home in City

The thieves of Richmond were busy plying their trade on the residents last night and the Police Department was busy running down clues in an effort to catch the thieves.

The home of Edison H. Hawley, 717 Elm street, was burglarized last night between the hours of 8:30 and 10 o'clock. Entrance was gained through the front door, which Hawley reported is always left unlocked. A gold watch and chain, a wrist watch, a set of pearl earrings, set with diamonds and a gold ring, all valued at $160, were taken after the house had been thoroughly ransacked.

E. J. Jackson, 415 Fifth street, reported to the police that a steel ladder was taken from his place yesterday.

A spare tire was stolen from Fred Hansen, 897 Macdonald avenue, while his machine was parked at Eighth and Nevin avenues, according to police reports.

E. C. Elmhurst, 825 Kevla, reported that he lost some blankets valued at $25, somewhere between Mrs. Vista and 135 Nevin avenues. These blankets were not stolen, but merely lost from the machine.

Last night a spare tire was stolen from the garage of Roy Lewis, 265 Seventeenth street, according to the report made to police.

S.F. HOSTELRIES WILL BE ABATED IN BOOTLEG WAR

Heavy Bootleg Drive Proposed Against San Francisco Hotels, Clubs and Cafes

LOCATIONS ARE WITHHELD

Captain Goff Says the Places to Be Locked Will Run High, Middle Class, Low.

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Resuming the "padlock war" on bootleggers, Captain Charles Goff, prohibition enforcement chief, today will ask United States District Attorney Carr to issue abatement proceedings against forty San Francisco restaurants, clubs, hotels and saloons.

If Carr grants the request on the evidence submitted by the dry chief the suspected places will be closed forthwith by Government agents. Their doors will be padlocked. The locks will stay on for a year.

"Certain parts of the city are going to look like a deserted village if the sale of liquor does not stop," said Goff yesterday. "We will padlock them all. Spiders and mice will take the place of the scotchflakes."

Captain Goff put the padlock on sixteen suspected drinking places last week. Only two saloons of liquor to agents in extreme cases only are sufficient evidence to abate the houses.

"The dry chief would give no indication as to the location of the places he will padlock, but he said they would run high as well as middle-class and low."

Harbor Committee, Executive Board Will Meet Today

H. A. Johnson, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and executive member of the executive committee of the board of directors, has called an important meeting of the executive committee and the harbor committee of the chamber of commerce to meet jointly today at 11 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, on Third street. The harbor committee, whose presence is desired is composed of: J. H. Plate, John Scott, A. H. Campbell, E. J. Garrard, S. S. Orr, O. R. Lander, William Nichol, A. L. Paulsen, Frank Scholtes, F. S. Newcomb, J. H. Mison, T. H. D. Lap, E. A. Hoffman, H. A. Johnson, and J. A. McVittie.

Jurors, who were taken last week to the scene of the accident to investigate, were George L. Eddy, George Winkelman, Robert Coats, John Pools, John Dahlstrom, Harry Blair, J. Korte, and J. Chavot.

FIRE LIABILITY COMMUNITY PROBLEM

Stock fire insurance companies have made it their concern to reduce destruction by fire, but it really is a matter for community action, since it affects every municipality and individual.

"It is the individual, as a rule, who, by carelessness, ignorance or crime, is responsible for the community which condones his act by permitting the existence of hazardous conditions in home, school or factory is the primary agency, which is really derelict in its responsibilities," says H. A. Smith, President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

All possible avenues of approach should carry the doctrine of fire prevention to the general public and to the various organizations of a business or social nature which make up our communities, enlisting the support of educational institutions and commercial bodies to the end that each shall pay its part in properly protecting the citizens of the community from fire loss.

It is not too much to assume that that devastation of the flames would have compelled the Federal and State Governments to enact laws for the suppression of fires and punishment of those having them as in France, had not the private business of fire insurance made the reduction of fire waste its voluntary contribution to the public welfare.

A PROBLEM OF THE OIL INDUSTRY

The foremost characteristic of the oil industry is that the volume of crude oil production is practically independent of the general business cycle. The oil producer must dispose of oil as fast as it flows from the wells. "Wild-catting" goes on continually by individuals who are not so much concerned with production as with the discovery of new reserves. When they make a lucky "strike," as the Los Angeles basin in 1923 or the Smackover "deep sand" held this spring, the industry may be in a position to actual over-production, nevertheless there is a rush of drillers to the new territory and the situation is thrown more out of balance.

This condition of affairs in the production and distribution of oil is the best guarantee the American people have against monopoly and the industry should be left free to develop in a normal manner as in the past.

MINING PROBLEMS DIFFERENT

A gold mine is not an everlasting proposition—nor is any type of mining. The owners of a mining property are usually amply repaid on their investment before it is exhausted, but a new property must be developed or our metal supply falls off.

The impression that existing mines are everlasting is a dangerous idea. The hazards of mining are great and the rewards should be great.

The industry cannot be compared with manufacturing or farming from a production or valuation standpoint.

Legislation or taxation which tends to reduce the incentive for mining or its possible profits to the usual commercial rate of return would ruin mining, for no one would venture money on such a basis.

UNDERMINING CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

As to the possibility of reducing the overhead cost of the Federal government in years to come, President Coolidge made the following clearcut statement:

"Unfortunately the federal government has strayed far afield from its legitimate business. It has trespassed upon fields where there should be no trespass. If we could confine our federal expenditures to the legitimate obligations and functions of the federal government a material reduction would be apparent. But far more important than this would be its effect upon the fabric of our constitutional form of government, which tends to be gradually weakened and undermined by this encroachment."

No weightier, no wiser words have come from the White House in many years.

A LIFE AND MONEY SAVER

Electricity and the telephone have been the two greatest labor savers and conveniences ever given to mankind.

But now comes the electric refrigerator for the small home and farm.

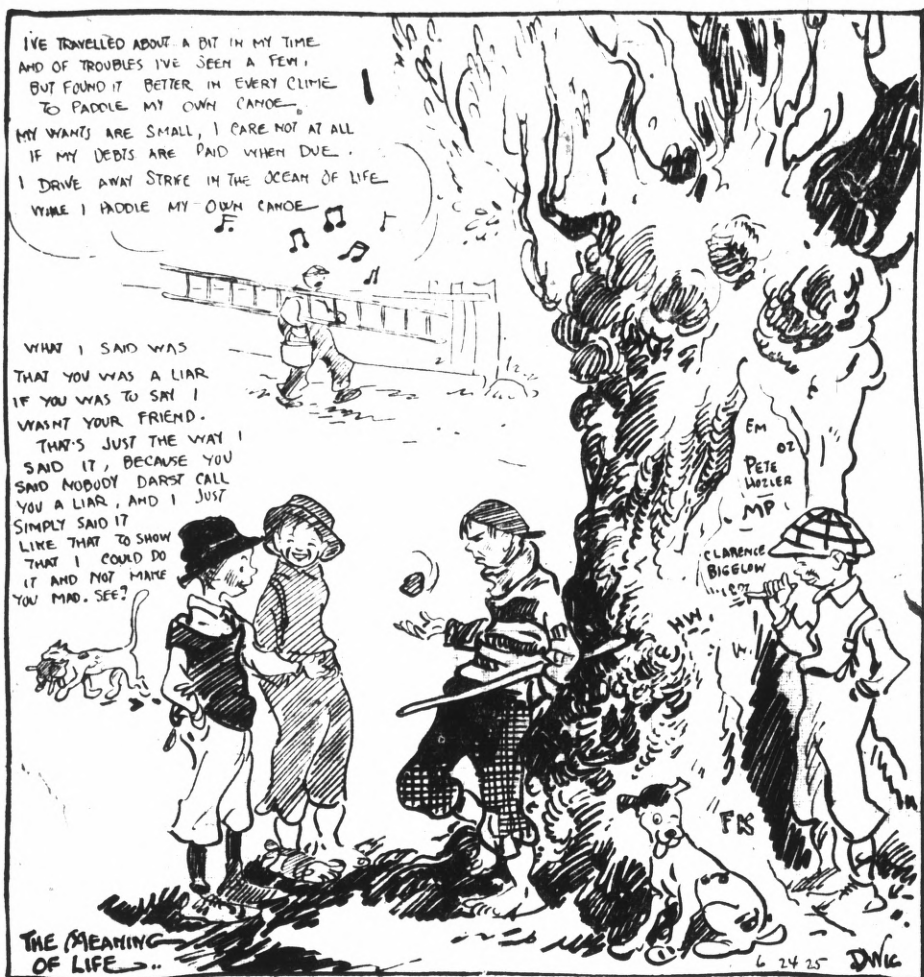

It promises to be the savior of mankind from many ills and losses, with which he has been afflicted because of food either spoiled or improperly cared for previous to eating.

The electric refrigerator adds the final touch to modern house-keeping which makes food storage practical and safe, and as satisfactory as the gas or electric range.

Electric refrigeration will revolutionize the question of food and produce storage on the farm.

The All White Ensemble Is Well

Selected For Warm Summer Days.

FOR a time it seemed as if most or many of the problems of good dressing might be solved by the ensemble idea. There was so little chance of wearing the wrong coat or the wrong hat when hat, coat and frock were all made to match or to go with one another. There was no way of wearing a hat and scarf that didn't look right together when they were sold together by the milliner who made the two pieces from the same piece of material. But now it becomes apparent—we are told—that if we don't look out we shall look "suburban" and "Sunday-bestish" if we carry out the ensemble idea too literally. Any forced effect in this matter of ensembles we are told is nouveau riche in feeling, and goodness knows we don't want to dress like a newly rich.

There is the little suburban woman

Summer ensemble of soft white kid with openwork design bound with solid bands of kid. The frock is of the two-piece sort, with pleated jabot—all of white georgette. The little bows which hold the jabot in place are of kid. There is a white fox scarf. The whole thing is an excellent example of the ensemble.

I know who likes shades of lavender.

You may have met her at bridge parties this spring in her lavender "ensemble." She has worn it everywhere. There is the frock done in mauve and violet. She and the dressmaker did that at home, and it is all very well in its way. Then there is the hat covered with the mauve material and trimmed with the violet. She took a course in millinery at the Y. M. C. A. or some place like that and carried some of the material to make the hat to match her frock. Then there are light lavender stockings which she wears with patent leather pumps, and light gloves with violet silk lined cuffs and a string of lavender beads which she bought specially and an amethyst ring which she was fortunate enough to have, and if by chance you should see the shoulder strap of her underthings you would see that even they are lavender. Yes, even the garters are violet or lavender or mauve, and they are part of this precious ensemble, which this little suburban woman got together with such painstaking care that it is really a shame to talk about it this way. And after she has come home from one of her little parties you can see her hurrying upstairs before she starts to get dinner to take off all her precious violet raiment—even the garters and the amethyst ring—and laying them out to air and then laying them all carefully away between folds of tissue paper until the next party.

The pathetic thing about it is that with all her efforts she really doesn't look smart or well dressed at all. And the reason is that instead of just following her good sense and good judgment in dress, she has followed a rule and a formula.

That is the ensemble idea at its worst. At its best the whole thing seems a matter of intuitive good taste.

THE RIGHT WAY WITH GARNISHING

FOR garnishing purposes beets should preferably be pickled rather than simply cooked, though if you happen to have a little plain boiled beet on hand this may be soaked in a little vinegar and then used for the purpose. There is hardly a salad—save fruit salads—that cannot be garnished with sliced beet. It should be added the last thing so that it will not color the rest of the salad. One attractive way to use beet is to slice it in nice even slices and use it alternately with slices of cucumber. This makes a good border for chicken salad, fish salad or potato salad. Radishes make attractive garnish.

es. If possible you should have them growing in your garden, because you may often find place to use two or three of them for garnishing when you do not wish to buy a whole bunch.

Watercress is not always easy to get. Sometimes it is rather wilted by the time we get it. However, if you have any way of getting nice crisp watercress you will find that it makes a charming garnish for cold meats.

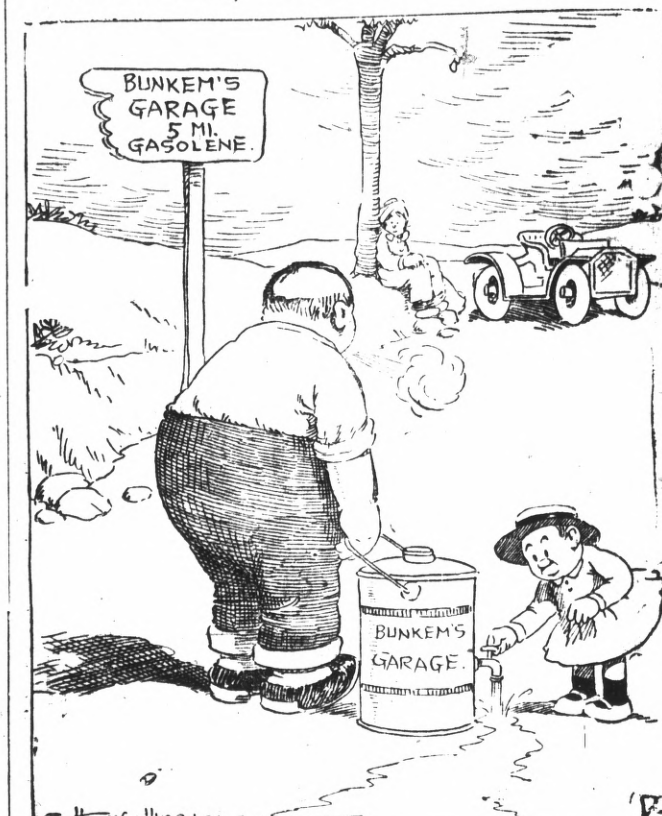

Hard-cooked eggs are used for many sorts of fish and are used also with boiled spinach. They are also used sometimes with potato salad. To get them ready they should be cooked for over fifteen minutes, so that the yolk is thoroughly cooked and neatly. In order to make sure that the shell does not crack—and this is apt to happen if you put an egg right from the refrigerator into hot water—place the cold egg in a dish of cool water and let it come to the boil. Let the egg or eggs cool thoroughly before peeling off the shell. Then slice them by means of one of the little devices that cut them into even slices. You may use just the rings or the entire circles. When the rings are used the yolk should be crumbled and sprinkled over the dish for garnishing.

SIMPLICITY RULES SPORT MODES

The newest version of the combination frock is the sports model with plain long-waisted blouse, gathered at the shoulders and buttoned straight down the front, with a skirt of plaid attached. Kasha, flannel, linen or the sports cottons could be used for this model. The collar may be made with or without a scarf ends. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yard 54-inch plain and 1 yard 54-inch plaid material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 2463. Sizes, 14 to 20 years and 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

Scalloped Fish: Melt one teaspoonful of butter, stir in one teaspoon flour, a cup and a half of milk. Stir until smooth. Put one pint of finely pickled cold fish in a greased pan, pour the sauce over it, sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake about twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Tomato Sauce: Take five or six lbs. of ripe tomatoes, put them into a covered jar and stand the jar in a slow oven, or in large pan of boiling water. When the tomatoes are quite soft rub them through colander. Weigh the pulp and use the following proportions: To four and a half pounds pulp allow two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoon of salt, teaspoon of minced garlic, teaspoon of white pepper. Put these all in a stewpan, and mix well. Now add one quart of vinegar, bring to the boil, and let it simmer altogether for about a quarter of an hour. Use some as a sauce for boiled macaroni and can the rest.

Chocolate Charlotte Russe: In the upper part of a double boiler put one cup and one-half of grated sweet chocolate, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and five tablespoonfuls of water. Mix these ingredients, then add, one at a time, the yolks of five eggs, heating the mixture well after each yolk is added. Cook until the mixture is smooth, then add five whites, beaten dry. Line the sides and bottom of a cake mould with lady fingers. Cover the bottom layer of lady fingers with the chocolate filling; then place a layer of lady fingers above the filling and alternate filling and cakes until the pan is full. Place in the ice-box and let stand over night. Serve with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

WHEN THE DANCE CALLS

To the left is a sophisticated dance frock of white satin which achieves much grace of line through the addition of panels of gold lace at either side. The outer waist is laid in plaits in front and back at the underarm edges, and the skirt is joined to the waist under a narrow cord of self-material. Sleeves added to the lining, would convert this model into an afternoon frock. Medium size requires 2 3/4 yards 40-inch satin with 2 yards 36-inch all-over lace and 3/4 yard lining for camisole.

To wear over the lovely evening frock nothing is more de rigueur than the coat of satin brocade or metal cloth. It may or may not be trimmed with fur, but fur, being worn during all the seasons of the year, refuses to yield its place to other forms of embellishments. This model has the lower section shirred to a long-waisted blouse. For daytime wear the wrap may be fashioned of Kashmir bloom, orma, darsella or a number of fine woolsens. Medium size requires 3 yards 54-inch material with 3/4 yards 36-inch lining. First Model: Pictorial Review Dress No. 2436. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust and 16 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

Second Model: Wrap No. 2438. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust and 16 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

Zeb Knott Tells Order of Moose How to "Orate"

Since Richmond lodge, Loyal Order of Moose started operating under open charter rules some weeks ago, the memberships have been pouring in very satisfying quantities. A number of new members were initiated at the meeting held in Moose hall last night, and a number more were obligated.

Special inducements are being given old members for bringing in new members, and everyone is greatly enthused over the success that is being met.

Zeb Knott, one of the prominent members of the lodge, entertained for some time last night with an interesting discourse on his adventures in Alaska during his sojourn there. Being a strong public speaking advocate, Knott also touched on this art, and gave the members many pointers for speech making.

Phil Jasven, Sr., a member of Oakland lodge, was present as a visitor last night, and very much enjoyed the occasion. C. M. Kelly was the winner of two very live rabbits in the weekly raffle. Kelly doesn't quite know as yet what he will do with the animals, but has about decided to go into business for himself.

AUSTRIA SUES WOMAN TO DIVORCE DEAD MAN

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, July 9.—The state of Austria is suing a woman for divorce on the ground that she married a dead man.

This unusual divorce case came about this way: On September 19, 1920 Margaret Hierach was married to Lieutenant Franz Hierach "per procuram," that is the bridegroom was represented by a friend and with him she exchanged the rings.

Permission for such a marriage is seldom granted in Austria, but was held necessary in this case because the bridegroom was still a war prisoner in far-off Tomsk in Siberia.

Later the authorities learned that Franz Hierach had died March 17, 1920, that is six months before the marriage in Vienna, though neither the bride nor the substitute bridegroom knew anything about it. Now the state is suing for divorce or for nullification of the marriage in order to avoid paying a pension to the "widow."

GROWING IRIS IS NOT HARD

"Poor Man's Orchid" Invites Attention of Home Gardeners—Directions for Beginners

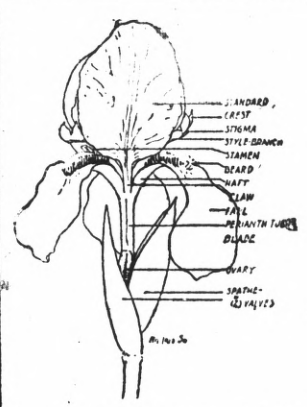

The writer has a collection of several hundred Iris brought from all parts of the world. He caters to the heritage of the primeval instinct present in all men to make contact with the earth, enjoys the artist's love of beauty in the flower and the ambitions of a collector, indeed, he finds happiness in the fulfillment of the great desire of the individual, to do or have something better than the other fellow.

There are about two hundred different species and thousands of varieties of Iris—a wide province to cover. Many of us know the bulbous Iris—planted in the Fall like the tulip. A few know of the hardless siberica, crested, spuria, pseudo spuria, and native "flag iris"—versicolor. The bearded Iris is more common and include the Pumila—blooming in April-May, the Intermediate—blooming in May and the tall Germanica (and allied groups)—blooming in May-June. It is in the latter section that hybridizers have made such great progress in recent years.

This article calls your attention to the value of pogoniris (Germanica and allied species) as a valuable and hardy perennial for ornamenting your home grounds. They increase rapidly from their surface creeping rhizomes and many varieties will seed through artificial pollination. Experience in endeavoring to produce Iris with improved pink and red tone colors, based on Mendel's theory of heredity, has been interesting. Seed production in the Fall is planted, when ripe, generally followed by germination the following Spring. These seedlings often bloom in another year, however, I have waited four and five years for flowers. The seedlings are all different and the wait is often disappointing as not one in a thousand is better than existing named varieties.

For beautifying the home grounds they can be planted along walks, drives, shrubby borders and in the rock garden. If you have a pool or brook, they make a wonderful landscape effect when clumped along the border or banks. They deserve a place in the home garden wherever it be with the lungalow or the mansion grand. Use them to give you the pride of ownership as they are as much the flower for every garden as the rose. An Iris border, four feet wide and closely planted, will make an excellent fence to keep the chickens from the fairway beyond. The rhizomes, or large fleshy roots, should be planted on the surface like a duck floating on the water. They will thrive in any sunny position and to a great extent are indifferent as to soil. Lime and good drainage are beneficial. Water, not drought, is the danger with bearded Iris as the rhizomes need a good baking in the summer sun. They can be planted any month in the year, but the ideal time is after blooming. If planted in the Spring, they should be in the ground before they show active growth. The clumps should be divided in three to six years as most varieties multiply rapidly. For better bloom top-dress annually with bone meal or potash. Plant twelve inches apart in groups of three for quick effect. Iris stand extreme heat and cold and are adapted to almost any climate.

The older and standard named Iris include some of the best varieties such as Alcazar, Archeveque, Caprice, Eldorado, Fairy, Flavescens, Isoline, Juxta, Madame Chereau, Ma Mie, Nibelungen, Pallida Dalmatica, Prosper Lauger, Queen of May, Rhein Nixe, and Violaeca Grandiflora. The new and more distinct

Memorial Ballroom Dance on Saturday

The patrons of the dance at the Memorial ballroom on Saturday evening will be treated to some of the latest and most popular song hits played by Bernard Weisberger's Versatile Six. The usual high class dance will be held, but the extra attraction is expected to attract great numbers of enthusiasts.

MRS. CARNEGIE RENEWS SCOTTISH PENSION FUND

(By Universal Service)
LONDON, July 8. Mrs. Andrew Carnegie has decided to revive the fund which was inaugurated by her late husband many years ago for the benefit of stranded Scots.

The fund closed with the death of the iron-master, as no provision had been made in his will to continue it. When Mrs. Carnegie recently returned to Skibo Castle and the situation was explained to her, she resumed the charity.

Carnegie's scheme was to remove from English and Irish poorhouses any man or woman of Scottish birth who had reached the age of 60, provided they were prepared to return to their native place where they had relatives or friends who could shelter them. He allowed a pension to the repatriated Scots sufficient to keep them in reasonable comfort.

WORLD BAN ON EVOLUTION IS AIM OF BRYAN

By EARL L. HAUB

Universal Service Staff Correspondent

DAYTON, Tenn., July 9.—Has William Jennings Bryan declared a holy war that seeks to sweep the world? Does he hope to be the modern Richard the Lion Hearted? These are questions that many here are asking today. The queries have been raised in their minds by Mr. Bryan's speeches and statements since he arrived. Some believe that he has either deliberately or unconsciously placed himself at the head of a great religious crusade.

Bryan has said that either the churches or the theory of evolution must go down. "It is a duel to the death between Christianity and evolution," he declared on his arrival here. In his speech last night he said all the forces of irreligion are arrayed against revolted religion, and added that a great religious revival is now starting in the south which he expects to sweep the country and possibly the world.

BIBLE AS CONSTITUTION

He has practically declared that the Bible must go into the constitution of the United States even if the American people by popular vote must overrule the supreme court.

It is the old fight between fundamentalism and modernism, but Bryan does not call it that. He claims there has been a systematic attack made against "revolted" religion by its foes.

"In the past this attack has been going on in the dark," he said, "but hereafter we will battle in the light. By Christianity's foes Bryan refers to those who do not accept the literal interpretation of the Scriptures. Modernists here have been quick to accept the challenge. They present his statements that they cannot be Christians unless they believe the Bible from cover to cover."

SCIENTISTS CHRISTIANS

"I deny Bryan's intimation that I am not a Christian, because I am an evolutionist," declared George R. R. Playe, who started the Scopes case. "Every great scientist is a Christian. A person cannot study science and not strengthen his belief in God. Whoever heard of a scientist running away with another man's wife or stealing money left in his trust? But we have read of preachers doing both."

Bryan has said since he came here that religion is more important than education. In a speech before the school board today he made a plea for Bible reading in the schools and said it was far more important than athletics in schools and colleges.

He is quoted as saying: "Your body cannot help you get into Heaven."

Bryan's threat to carry the fight to the people and get a twentieth amendment to the constitution is looked upon by Tennessee politicians

Postage Stamp History Told In "Loyal Lives" Tonight At The Wesley Methodist Church

Few persons who will see "Loyal Lives," the photoplay depicting the romance of the mail service, which will be shown at the Wesley Methodist church, corner Ninth street and Nevins avenue tonight, at 7:15 realize that the postage stamp, now the symbol of the untiring devotion to duty and unflinching courage portrayed in the picture, holds a romance of its own.

The first known stamp was entirely dissimilar to those in use. It made its appearance in the reign of Louis XIV of France. In 1653, Louis XIV granted a forty-year monopoly to Comte de Nogent and Sieur de Villaver, Masters of Requests, to establish local posts in Paris and other cities.

Under the grant, they were compelled to place "a goodly number of boxes" about Paris and to collect the mails twice daily. The charge for a letter was one sou and was collectible from the receiver. Difficulties in collecting postage on delivery, led the founders of this service to end that practice by making the first stamp. This was in the form of a note which left room for the date and year to be filled in. These notes were purchased at the office of the company. They were large and were wrapped around the letter mailed. The clerk would cancel these stamps by tearing them off.

The postal system in France was short-lived. Public ridicule kicked the system into nothingness. Throwing of mice and rubbish into the mail boxes was considered a great joke. Letters were chewed into bits by the mice. Rubbish soiled the letters, so that addresses could not be read. As a result the service was demoralized.

Sir Rowland Hill of England, is credited with the making of the first adhesive stamp, despite a number of counter-claimants by descendants of men of the period. On February 13, 1837, he proposed that a stamp with "a glutinous wash" which would become sticky "by the use of a bit of moisture" be used. This method was adopted. A uniform penny post followed this novelty in 1840.

In 1854 Henry Archer, an Irishman

perfected means to perforate sheets of stamps, enabling the production of stamps more quickly and cheaply. Joshua Bacon, engraver, employed in the London bank not firm of Jacob Perkins, a Bostonian, discovered a method of softening the surface of steel and then hardening it again. This method made it possible to make many impressions of hand-etched plates for printing stamps and covers for envelopes. The earliest British stamp made by this process showed Britannia standing dispatching messengers to the four corners of the earth.

New Method Found

These dies were used until 1880 when a method was devised for using ordinary typography. This method made it possible to use steam presses in place of the hand presses.

The first stamps were printed in green and black inks called doubly fugitive stamp inks. These inks were aimed to prevent forgery and re-use. Watermarks, silk threads in the paper, and a chalked-surface were methods tried to prevent forgeries. The watermark is the only method now employed.

The stamp is now the seal of service. It stands for loyalty, for unflinching devotion to duty, for unflinching effort on the part of the men in the Mail Service. And all these things are portrayed in "Loyal Lives," the finest tribute to letter carriers and men in the postal service. This screen play is one none can afford to miss.

Reginald Denny At The California Will "Show You The Town" Today

Scene from REGINALD DENNY'S "I'LL SHOW YOU THE TOWN" A UNIVERSAL JEWEL

That there are more ways than one of seeing the sights of the town is illustrated in Reginald Denny's latest laughing success, "I'll Show You the Town," the Universal Jewel feature now showing at the California theatre.

The days of the hackney coach, omnibus and rubberneck-wagon have gone and even a more modern vehicle than taxicabs has come to take their place. The airplane is at last coming into its own and, according to the pilots of the air, the flying machine outstrips all competitors in point of absolute efficiency.

In "I'll Show You the Town," the screen version of Elmer Davis' screamingly funny story, Reginald Denny is cast in the role of a young college professor who is placed in the predicament of having to show the sights of the town to an extremely homesick, but wealthy widow who is on a short visit to the metropolis from her provincial home. Denny has but thirty minutes in which to accomplish this tour of the town. The widow, Agnes Cleveland, played by Cissy Fitzgerald, had never been up in an airplane and wasn't over anxious for the experience. Be that as it may the flight over the metropolis furnishes a fair share of whole hearted laughs and is one of the outstanding situations in the production.

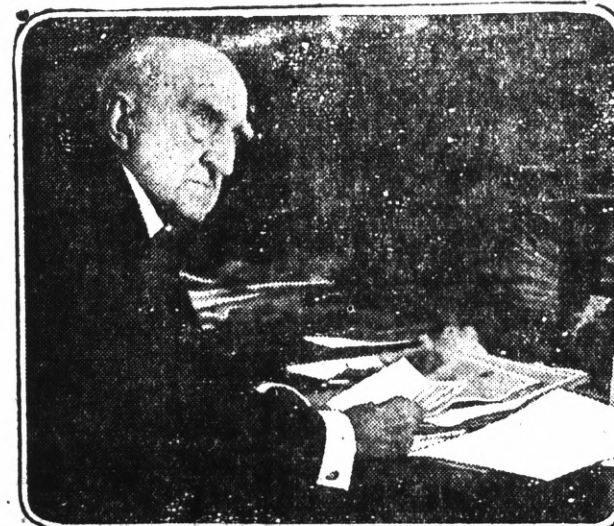

Incidentally, a sight-seeing tour of the town has since been converted to be not only efficient, but extremely practical. Five minutes in the air and the Widow Cleveland saw the town and all its sights. Marian Nixon, Edward Kimball, Lilyan Tashman, Hayden Stevenson, Margaret Livingston, Neely Edwards, William A. Carr, Martha Mattox, Helen Green and Lionel Braham, are in the supporting cast. Harry A. Pollard directed the production.

Other features on the same program include "Going Great," with Eddie Nelson, a Jack White Mermaid comedy; "International News" Larry Canelo, at the organ.

Offers Reward For Petty Thief

A reward of one hundred dollars was offered yesterday by J. J. Mason, 230 Arlington avenue, El Cerrito, for the capture of a petty larceny thief who has been stealing small household articles from the Mason residence. Door knobs, garden hose, shrubbery and plants were among the articles reported stolen.

Flappers All Right, Says Depew; Famous Statesman's Views on Life

Chauncey M. Depew, America's most famous raconteur and after-dinner speaker, is living in New York City, hale and hearty at the age of ninety-one years. Secretary of State of New York over sixty years ago, legal head of one of the greatest railroad systems of the country, once United States senator and a man who has had a finger in making presidents, Mr. Depew looks out on life with a cheerful view and thinks that even flappers are not so bad.

Senator Depew is still chairman of the board of the big railroad system, still a popular after-dinner speaker and a member of New York's "four hundred" and still has a fund of funny stories, which President Garfield once said, was the only thing that kept him from being president of the United States.

A newspaper reporter who has interviewed Mr. Depew at different stages of his life—Theodore Dreiser, who has now become one of America's well known writers, sets down in the current number of Hearst's International Cosmopolitan what the near-centenarian thinks of present day politics, old age, the future of America, wealth, fame, and flappers.

Mr. Dreiser not only found the famous old statesman up on these subjects, but willing to discuss them in detail. Mr. Depew has many novel views for the solution of many problems that perplex not only statesmen but educators and moralists.

TWO BANDITS ROB NEWARK DEPOT, CLERK

NEWARK, July 9. For the third time in nine months, two masked bandits early this morning heldup and robbed the Southern Pacific station at Newark. The robbers, one of whom was armed with a revolver, the other with a hammer, escaped with an undetermined amount of the company's money and the belonging to H. F. Albert, station operator.

Albert who was alone in the depot last night, was unaware of the bandits' presence until they knocked on a window and demanded, at the point of a gun, to be admitted. While one man covered him through the window, Albert said, the other one, armed with a mechanic's hammer, entered the station. After being robbed of his personal money, Albert was ordered to open the till. Shortly after the men left the station, Albert said, he heard a machine speed away down the highway. Both men, according to the station master, were masked with blue bandanas. The one who entered the station wore blue overalls, a sweater and had his cap pulled down over his eyes.

On December 15 a bandit, his face covered with a red bandana heldup Walter Wyatt, night operator at Newark station and looted the ticket cash drawer of $10.

Less than two weeks later the station was again held up, this time by two masked bandits. The robbery on that occasion was similar to the one committed early this morning. While one of the men covered Wyatt with a revolver, the other whom was armed with a hammer, looted the till of $27.43. A check of yesterday's receipts at Newark was being made by Southern Pacific auditors today to determine the amount of loss.

All Standards Swamp Barrel House, 12 to 4

BARREL HOUSE TAKES CELLAR WITH REFINERY

STANDARD OIL LEAGUE.

CLUB— W. L. Pct.

All Standards	4	2	.750
Mechanics	5	3	.625
Barrel House	2	5	.186
Refinery	2	5	.186

Rod Allen's Barrel House, which club it will be remembered was the 1924 champions of the Standard Oil League, couldn't make the grade against the speedy All Standards, that young and peppy aggregation that now is sitting a game and a half ahead of all competitors in the league. The massacre occurred at the First street park last night before a good sized group of advocates who roundly cheered the All Standards and just as roundly jeered the Barrel House. After Joe Dietrich, that cool and level-headed scorekeeper (official) had finished checking up, it was found that the results were 12 to 4, in favor of the above-mentioned All Standards.

Fielding of the best kind is necessary in any club, but when a nine combines fielding and hitting, nothing can stop them. And, kosh, how those boys under the leadership of Charley Friene can hit Steengraffe found to his chargin that his opponents had clicked out an even 13 safe ones in this encounter, while his team-mates were lucky to get the six they did off Buttischach.

Gillispie, who occupies his time in the field playing first, was the daddy of them all yesterday.

In the third inning he connected for a circuit clout that sailed to the white residence back of right field fence.

THIRD IS DISASTROUS

This same third inning was disastrous for Steengraffe, and it was Gillispie's homer that started the ball rolling, and not only rolling, but flying. After a series of whirlwind events eight runs resulted from seven hits, a few walks, but no errors. Steengraffe did his best to retire the side, but all the All Standards had their specs well polished and smacked the apple for quite a few hits of diversified lengths and basic values.

Steengraffe tried to win his own game in the second inning, for he dispatched the horsehide with a message that bore a home run label over right field fence. The other homer of the day was made by Cullers. It was a freak. The ball only went to lower right fence, but either became lost in the tall grass or crawled through a knot hole, for it was not found until after Cullers was back on the bench.

Red Devereaux, the Barrel House's star coach, tried to pull the fat from the fire in the last inning, by going in to bat for Chambers, who had just replaced McHenry in left field. Red got a Texas Leaguer in center field, but died on third.

Roy Nelson had a hard time getting past his brother Hal yesterday. The latter was playing first and made a trio of clean unassisted put-outs on Roy.

NEW COMERS SEEN

A bevy of newcomers were seen in the Barrel House lineup yesterday. A number of the regular players are on their vacations, so Rod Allen stuck in Daniels at third and McHenry in left field. Daniels played a fine game at third, and also

Elks Bowling Team

Three out of four points were captured by the Richmond Elks class A bowling team in a contest with the Alameda Elks team at the Barettes alleys Wednesday evening.

The Richmond Elks Class B team has a contest scheduled with the San Rafael Elks at the Barettes alleys on Saturday evening.

Following were the results of the class A games:

did some good stick work, getting a double and a single. McHenry didn't do quite so well. Although he caught all the flies that came his way, he was poor on the throw in, and was poorer on the business end of the bat.

By this game the Barrel House put itself in the class of the Refinery. This wasn't so bad however, as the Chick Autrians have been showing some real class lately, and the pennant is far from cinched for any club.

How To Be Healthy

By JOHN W. DEEMING

OBESITY

The present generation seems to have made it a habit to reduce. In some instances it is very necessary and again in many cases it is unnecessary.

There are many people who have what is considered a good figure, but still they wish to take off weight and become slender. If this is carried too far it becomes dangerous. A certain amount of fat is necessary to keep the body in condition and it would be wise to go slow in this kind of thing. Beware of any system that reduces rapidly, as anyone can see that the muscles must be tuned up by exercise as the reduction of weight is going on. If the best results are to be obtained.

Below are a few hints regarding foods:

and Peters; Burns and Tobin. Vernon 0, 3 0. Oakland 4, 9 0. Batteries—Barfoot and Schang; Boehler and Read. San Francisco 6, 14 0. Los Angeles 3, 7 0. Batteries—Crockett and Yelle; Payne and Spencer.

Avoid fatty foods if you must reduce and limit the intake of liquids to as small amount as possible. Take your exercise every day; also take your rub down as this will keep the skin active.

FOODS THAT MUST BE EATEN SPARINGLY

Breakfast foods, cereals, corn products, rice, macaroni, buns, cakes, cookies, crackers, tapioca, sago, rice pudding, corn starch pudding, sweet potatoes, fat meats, cheese, creamy soups, oils and fats, cocoa, chocolate, beer, and sweets of all kinds.

FOODS THAT CAN BE EATEN

Lettuce, carrots, turnips, onions, tomatoes, parsley, cabbage, black olives, beet tops, summer squash, dandelion greens, mustard greens, spinach, celery, nuts, string beans, fresh green peas, corn on cob, eggs, brussels sprouts, asparagus, mushrooms, cauliflower, stewed fruits, lean meats, fish, oysters, omelets, egg dishes, beef, chicken, lamb, turkey, duck. Eat very sparingly of buttered bread and potatoes. Avoid too much salt, pepper and mustard on your foods as they tempt to over indulgence.

SAYINGS

Eating in excess always wears out the body without any advantage whatever. Dr. Fordyce.

Greater Mileage·Greater Power Greater Speed..Combined!

With Richfield in your tank you know you have every good quality any gasoline can give. No need to search for better, or "dope" poorly made gasolines to make up for qualities they lack. Richfield means most from every motor. Always the same wherever you go—uniform, dependable and unflinching in its combined qualities of greater speed, power and mileage!

MILEAGE SPEED & POWER

This is why Julius Dusevoir after testing many other gasolines selected Richfield for his officially observed Los Angeles-Yosemite High Gear run. 360 miles with only 9 3/4 gallons of powerful, mile-producing Richfield—an average of 36.91 miles per gallon! This is the same model stock Star touring car (sealed in high gear with top and windshield removed) that averaged less than 27 miles per gallon with another well-known brand of gasoline in the ninth Annual Los Angeles to Yosemite Economy Run on May 22nd and 23rd. This is why Charles Holdson after exhaustive tests selected Richfield above all other gasolines for his remarkable Duesenberg endurance and economy run—6000 miles in 10 days! Richfield is the exclusive choice of the world's greatest racing drivers. Men who know gasoline by actual road, speedway and laboratory tests and who, with the choice of every gasoline made, select Richfield and depend on it year after year. Richfield has won every A. A. A. National Championship Race but one for four consecutive years! It was in the car of Jimmy Murphy, the only American driver to win the famous French Grand Prix, and has won the great Indianapolis 500 mile speedway Classic for five consecutive years—records unequalled by any other gasoline in the world!

Every Westerner has a right to be proud of this California gasoline—its wonderful records! Made by special process by a California company from California's crude—owned and directed by California men—it is proving its wonderful mileage and power superiority by an unbroken string of speedway victories and by its steadily increasing sales of thousands of gallons every month! Try Richfield in your own car today—note the difference!

TUBERCULOSIS OVERCOME
Oakland, Calif.
April 28, 1925.
For about three years I suffered from a bad cough and sore chest. I tried many doctors, all of whom pronounced my case Tuberculosis. My spittle was examined and showed tubercular germs. As I found no improvement from any of the treatments that I took I decided to give the FONG WAN HERBS a test. As a last resort. After having drunk the herbs for four months, I was a well woman and had gained in weight. A year has elapsed since I began to take the FONG WAN HERBS on April 16, 1924, but today, I am still well and have no sign of my former complaints. (Signed) MRS. A. ACKERMAN, Fort Bragg, Calif. # MIDDIES WILL BE ENTERTAINED BY BAY REGION

OAKLAND, July 9. (D. H. P.) The midshipmen of the United States Navy Academy at Annapolis, who will arrive in the bay city this evening in the course of the summer training cruise.

A tea dance at the Clarendon Country club Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Oakland Chapter of Commerce, a concert in the Greek Theatre Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Berkeley chamber of commerce and an automobile tour of the Eastbay are among the entertainment features which this side of the bay will provide for the naval youths.

TRAIN ON BATTLESHIPS

The midshipmen are traveling on battleships New York, Utah and Arkansas the squadron being in command of Rear Admiral Carl T. Vogelsang. They left Annapolis at the close of the spring session of the academy, and will return a time for the reopening of classes in the fall. Their itinerary has led down the Atlantic coast, across the Gulf of Mexico, through the Panama canal and will take them to Puget Sound before the return trip begins.

Throughout the cruise the midshipmen are receiving instruction in navigation, seamanship, gunnery and other matters. In addition to the training in the duties of officers they are also required to serve as the crews of the ships.

Selby Laborers

the bed when he heard a woman's voice join those of the two men, dressed and went outside to pass the remainder of the night on a bench on the porch.

Wednesday morning, one of the men whom Erickson denies ever having seen before told him that he had better leave town to which Erickson agreed if furnished with the price of a railroad ticket. Fearful for his safety if he remained in Selby, Erickson started to walk to Crockett in the early evening and passing the Southern Pacific ferry slips at Vallejo Junction heard again the sound of the voices of a woman and two men coming from under the wharf and an instant later two shots were fired, the bullet whizzing past him. Erickson says he then ran to Crockett and sought an officer to ask police protection. While walking about town he claims that he was followed by an automobile in which a man and woman were seated and the number of which cars the officers learned was taken by a second hand dealer in that town.

From Crockett the sheriff's office was notified and Deputies Joseph McNamee and Nelson made a hasty investigation bringing Erickson to the Sheriff's office in Martinez for safety pending a more complete investigation of the occurrence.

Dayton Assumes

the trial will last. He replied: "That depends upon the issues that will be raised. I cannot fortell them or comment upon them. But the length of the trial will depend upon which of three courses the two sides take.

"If young Mr. Scopes decides merely to plead not guilty to the violation of the Tennessee statute under which he is indicted in that he did not 'teach' evolution, it will be relatively simple.

"If he decides to plead that he taught evolution but that the law is beyond the powers of the legislature as defined by the constitution of Tennessee and the United States, that will bring a wider issue.

"And, of course, if he decides to show that what he taught is not in contravention to the Bible, that opens the record to almost the entire field of human learning and belief."

JUDGE FEELS IMPORTANCE

Those who heard Judge Raulston say this believe he is not averse to all three issues being raised. Big shouldered, big headed, long jawed and charmingly loquacious, the judge believed with good reason that he is presiding at a trial as important as any since the trial that began the Christian religion. He issued a formal statement showing it this afternoon. It read:

"I approach my duties in the trial of the Scopes case with a deep consciousness that the issues are profound.

"I am concerned that those connected with this investigation shall direct themselves of all ambition to establish any particular theory for personal gratification and that we all constantly inquire for the eternal truth.

"If man, without inspiration, attempts to delve into the mysteries of God, he finds himself overwhelmed with perplexities.

"Therefore, I am much interested that the unerring hand of Him who is the author of all truth and justice shall direct every official act of mine.

DEFENSE COMPLEXED

The defense attorneys were at first a bit taken aback by this. Then they realized that it was merely the honest prayer of a sincere man. They gave it a hearty "amen."

William Jennings Bryan Jr., arrived this morning to help his father, A. T. Stewart, technical head of the prosecution, arrived tonight. So did Clarence Larrow and Dudley Ficht Malone.

Final conferences on both sides extended far into the evening. Even when they were over, both sides were chary of discussing the final plans that must have been framed.

SOVIETS ORDER GERMAN LABOR MEN TO REVOLT

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, July 9. Orders to prepare a Bolshevik revolution in Germany have been sent by the Moscow executive committee to the convention of the German Communist party now in session here.

The orders are contained in an open letter signed by Zinoviev and published in the entire communist press of Germany. He says: "The German communist party must prepare a second revolution—a revolution which must and will be victorious for the proletariat. This revolution is on the march. Except for a victorious proletarian revolution there is no other way out for Germany."

It is significant, however, that a part of the letter admits that the Dawes plan has given a breathing space to the German bourgeoisie and thereby postponed the chances for revolution. The German communists are ordered, therefore, to work with the Socialists for the present. The extremists get hard words for having caused the election of Hindenburg.

The Dawes plan, in the view of Zinoviev, cannot stop the revolution, as he concludes:

"The Democratic pacifistic tree is withered even before it has bloomed. All signs point to the fact that the capitalistic world is slowly but surely approaching revolution."

Big Time Tonight Is Scheduled at Richmond Y.M.C.A.

There are going to be some big things at the Y. M. C. A. this evening according to Physical Director J. W. Deeming. Games of different kinds, singing and stunts will make up the program. Special door prizes will be given away. A baby grand will be the first prize. There will be no admission and the public are invited to come and take in the program.

The main attraction of the evening is a volleyball game between the Rotary Club and the Lions Club. Both teams seem to think they are going to win but they can't both win, so it looks as if they will make for fly. Two silver cups will be presented to the winners and runner up of the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament that has just closed.

A fast handball game is being arranged between two of the best players in the city T. M. Carlson and B. Epstein. Also the best girl basketball players of the city are being lined up for snappy games. There will also be music and singing to round out the program. Special musical numbers by Miss Ruby Williams and Maurice Church and songs by Price Roberts and Archie Winchelo.

A large delegation of the Kiwanis Club is expected to be there as they want to get a line up on the ability of the volleyball teams as they are going to challenge the winners.

West Side People To Discuss Park At Meet Tonight

The West Side Progressive association, at its meeting this evening, will endeavor to reach an agreement on the location of the West Side park, for which $8,000 of the $150,000 park and playground bond issue of two years ago was given. The residents of the West Side have not been able to reach an agreement about the location, so the budget was laid aside until the agreement was reached.

C. M. Patten, secretary, stated yesterday that a proposal for a special election would be made so that all bona fide residents of that section could state their views. It is believed that the city would accept the results of the election, although it would have no legal status.

Love for Beautiful Spy Leads Diplomat to Gallows

By O. D. TOLISCHUS

Universal Service Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, July 9.—Out of the horror and death of the Communist uprising in Bulgaria that climaxed in the bombing of the Sofia Cathedral, there emerges a story of love, romance and adventure more fascinating than any fiction story.

The story turns about a pseudo-Russian princess who was really a Bolshevik agent, and whose fatal beauty wrecked the career of a promising diplomat and delivered one of the best known attorneys and politicians of Bulgaria to the gallows.

She called herself Elizaveta Alexandrova, a distant relative of the last of the Czsars, and in that role she managed to bluff all Sofia.

She appeared there a year ago and soon had the whole capital at her feet. She explained that her family had been killed by the Bolsheviks and that she alone had been able to escape with the family jewels.

Her tragedy and her beauty made her soon the center of society and officers, officials and diplomats vied with one another for her favors.

She flirted with all and gathered what information she could. Then a young attaché of one of the embassies fell in love with her and offered her heart and hand. She accepted. The marriage was arranged.

thorough "blowing up."

The "high contracting parties," were his friend, Lieutenant Knut Lyholm attached to the government's civil engineering department, and Miss Ester Berggren of Stockholm. Beside the minister's own bride, as official witness was Lennart Jacobsson, a local attorney, so that everything was done legally, though, according to conservative Swedish notions, a bit high-handedly.

While performing the ceremony the clergyman wore the full regalia of the Swedish state church and he used the official church manual. The three motors of the aeroplane, capable of carrying five tons across the Baltic and back each day, hummed the wedding march.

Later a wedding breakfast, brought along in a basket, was also eaten on board and as it included flowers for everybody and a bottle of champagne the social atmosphere also became high.

Before starting the prospective bride and groom were photographed, but despite the double risk facing them they looked no more concerned than usual.

First, however, the parents of the attaché desired to see their future daughter-in-law and the couple left for the capital of a neighboring state.

No sooner had they arrived however, then a dispatch arrived from the embassy announcing that several important documents had disappeared. Investigation proved that the "princess" had staged the theft. The marriage was off. But so was the career of the young attaché.

The "princess" now spent some time in Vienna, Paris and Berlin, but soon she was back in Sofia.

The attorney, "Georgieff," member of the National Liberal Party now became her next victim.

He fell deeply in love with her, and stood so completely under her sway, that at her instigation he became a member of the Bulgarian Communist party and undertook to disseminate Soviet propaganda in Bulgaria. For it the Communist International was to pay him 15,000 Leva a month.

When the Sofia Cathedral was bombed, and two hundred persons killed, the pseudo-princess fled to Vienna and Georgieff followed her. Then he returned to Sofia and was arrested.

He is the only person connected with the Cathedral outrage for whom the population feels sympathy.

Later a wedding breakfast, brought along in a basket, was also eaten on board and as it included flowers for everybody and a bottle of champagne the social atmosphere also became high.
